December 2025

Dear Healthcare Professionals and Valued Customers,

We have changed the oil blend from canola to soy oil in the formulation for the PediaSure® Peptide portfolio. This change will not affect the calories, taste, UPC/SKU number, price, or size. There will, however, be minor changes to the fatty acid levels, vitamin K, sodium, and osmolality due to the oil source change from canola oil to soy oil.

Though you'll see a new label reflecting these changes, rest assured that PediaSure Peptide is still nutritionally complete and scientifically designed to support the growth of children with impaired GI function.

The PediaSure Peptide SKUs will be transitioning to the new label starting in March 2026. Timing for this transition depends on each individual SKU and current inventory levels. Please see below for timing estimates by SKU. Once available, Abbott will substitute the new product automatically.
