

PediaSure[®] Peptide

#1 PEDIATRICIAN RECOMMENDED BRAND

December 2025

Dear Patient or Caregiver,

Abbott is changing the oil blend from canola to soy oil in the formulation for the PediaSure[®] Peptide portfolio. The updated product will start shipping to customers in March 2026. The change will not affect the taste, calories, price, or size of the products. There will, however, be minor changes to the fatty acid levels, vitamin K, sodium, and osmolality due to the oil source change from canola oil to soy oil.

Though you'll see a new label reflecting these changes, rest assured that PediaSure Peptide is still nutritionally complete and scientifically designed to support the growth of children with impaired GI function.

The PediaSure Peptide products will be transitioning to the new label starting in March 2026, and the transition will continue through July 2026. Exact timing will vary by product.

For information about transitioning to the updated products, please contact your healthcare provider. For questions about formula changes, contact Abbott Consumer Relations at 1-800-515-7677.

Sincerely,

Joshua Utter
