Dear Concordance:

This letter serves as formal notification that Integra LifeSciences is holding shipment from its distribution centers of all MediHoney dressing, gel, and paste products (SKUs listed below). However, at this time customers can continue to further distribute and use any MediHoney products held in stock.

Currently, we are not able to project when shipments might resume. We expect to update you in about a month. In the meantime, please see below for a message you can relay to your customers.

Thank you for your understanding while we determine when we might be able to resume shipments. Please let me know of any questions.
